One bright morning, Ava opened the door — and there was a friendly young dinosaur, waiting with a wink. Today, an adventure would begin!

Together they set off down the winding path, footsteps crunching as a lush prehistoric valley opened up all around them.

A wobbly rope bridge swayed ahead. Ava held her arms out wide and stepped across — brave as could be.

Off the trail, Ava spotted a secret path hiding in the ferns. "This way!" she pointed.

A great boulder blocked the road. Ava gave a friendly young dinosaur a boost, and over the top they climbed together.

By a babbling stream they met a shy little friend. Ava shared a snack, and soon everyone was smiling.

Whoosh! A sudden gust swept through. Ava grabbed hold and giggled as leaves spun all around.

A tiny locked door stood in an old stone wall. Where could the key be? Ava began to search.

Up, up, up to the highest lookout Ava climbed, and gazed out over the whole wide world.

At last they reached the big puzzle of the journey. Ava sat down and thought very, very hard.

Then — aha! Ava had a clever idea, and jumped for joy as the puzzle clicked open!

As the sun melted into gold, Ava and a friendly young dinosaur headed home, waving goodbye to a lush prehistoric valley. What a day!
